Helena Center Offers Health Fair

Helena – The Texas Migrant Council, Inc. Dbba New America Corporation held a health fair in partnership with the community this Saturday. Several organizations worked together to provide health tips, basic supplies, clothing and entertainment for this fair.

The health fair began with a blessing of the Center and a blessing of the migrant farm worker families. Then families went around to the different booths that included free health advice, glucose and vision screenings, free hygiene products. Also, one of the churches in the community donated clothes to the fair which families were allowed to choose from. A special treat for the families was the Helena Volunteer Fire Department who treated everyone to demonstrations on fire safety.

“This event is held every year to assist local migrant farm workers and their families”, stated Nora Hernandez. Last year the fair provided assistance to more than 170 children.

This years entertainment featured DJ Daniel Romero from Bowling Green, Jacob Estrada (a Fremont musician), and the Ballet Folklorico Imagenes Mexicanas based in Oregon, Ohio.
