

Texas Migrant Council, Inc. Teacher Named Bilingual Teacher of the Year

March 31, 2007

Laredo- Eva Avila a pre-school Head Start Teacher at the Carrizo Springs Center was awarded the Bilingual Teacher of the Year. The award was given at the 5th Annual Spring Bilingual conference held at Texas A&M International University. This event sponsored by the College of Education was attended by local educators, administrators and teachers from the Laredo surrounding area. This years theme “Changing Perspectives for Changing Times: Multilingualism for All” was attended by more than 600 participants.

Ms. Avila has been with Texas Migrant Council, Inc. (TMC) for the last five years and is hours away from receiving her Bachelor’s Degree in Early Childhood Education with a specialization in Bilingual Education. Prior to working for TMC Ms. Avila was a daycare teacher for ten years. “Ms. Avila is an innovative teacher that takes the opportunity to share her expertise with other teachers we are proud of Eva and congratulate her on her accomplishments, stated Mary Capello, CEO.”
